CELEBRATING FORT MASON CENTER'S 25TH ANNIVERSARY

This year marks the 25th anniversary of Fort Mason Center. Decommissioned as an Army base in 1962, and then assigned to the National Park Service as part of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area in 1972, the Center opened its doors to the public in 1977.

Working closely with the National Park Service, its resident organizations and the entire Bay Area community, the Fort Mason Foundation has fulfilled the mission of creating and preserving this remarkable cultural, educational and recreational center. The National Historic Landmark buildings have been transformed from warehouses and military quarters to museums, theaters, classrooms and premier event venues. Today over 15,000 programs are held at Fort Mason Center, produced by 2,000 organizations and individuals, serving 1.6 million visitors annually.

To honor the past 25 years, the Foundation presents two anniversary events this month: a community birthday celebration, Birthday By The Bay, on Wednesday, October 2, and a gala dinner dance benefiting the Fort Mason Center Historic Preservation Fund on Thursday, October 10. You are invited to participate in these exciting events.

Birthday By The Bay
Spend the day with us on the San Francisco waterfront. The festivities begin at 11am with a birthday party featuring cake and ice cream, and special performances by the Center's resident arts, educational and recreational groups including Con Alma, a vocal jazz group representing the Blue Bear School of American Music, and the Performing Arts Workshop. The museums open their doors with free admission to the public. (For exhibition information, see the Galleries page.) Don't miss this fun-filled day! For details, see October 2.

25th Anniversary Gala
Raise your glass and toast Fort Mason Center at its 25th anniversary gala, to benefit the Fort Mason Center Historic Preservation Fund. It's an evening of cocktails, delectable foods by McCall Associates, a silent auction, and dancing. Music is provided by Dick Bright's SRO. The gala takes place in the Herbst Pavilion, on the San Francisco waterfront between the Golden Gate Bridge and Fisherman's Wharf.

The Gala Honorary Committee includes Charles and Elizabeth Thieriot, Chairpersons; Mayor Willie L. Brown, Jr.; Senator Barbara Boxer; Senator Dianne Feinstein; Sally Lilienthal; Supervisor Gavin Newsom; GGNRA Superintendent Brian O'Neill; and Congresswoman Nancy Pelosi.

Gala Sponsors are led by Union Bank of California, and include A & E Building Maintenance, Hartmann Studios, McCall Associates, Pellegrini Family Vineyards, Michael Schwab Studio, and Soiree Valet. Our Web Partner is SFSTATION.COM.

The Historic Preservation Fund supports the maintenance of the 100-year-old structures at Fort Mason Center. Gala tickets are $225 for individuals. Tables of ten are available at three levels: Friends at $3,000, Patrons at $5,000 and Benefactors at $10,000. Advance reservations are required. For ticket information, call (415) 345-7550 or e-mail karen@fortmason.org. For more information, see October 10 or visit www.fortmason.org.

The 25th anniversary is our opportunity to reflect on the success of the past, honoring and thanking the thousands who have contributed towards this success, while looking to new opportunities in our future. In the coming years we will seismically retrofit the Herbst Pavilion, renovate Pier One, continue to preserve the Center, and work towards expanding the E-line historic streetcars to extend past Fisherman's Wharf and end at Fort Mason. This anniversary is as much a time to celebrate our past as it is to kick off our future. Please join us!

VINTAGE POSTER FAIR

HERBST PAVILION

Celebrating its ninth anniversary, the International Vintage Poster Fair is a stunning show and sale of more than 10,000 authentic posters presented by twenty internationally renowned art dealers. The Fair includes a wide selection for collectors and enthusiasts, discussions with exhibiting dealers, and lectures by experts presented throughout the weekend. Prices range from $100 to $25,000, with an average range from $500 to $2,000.

The Poster Fair opens with a gala Preview Night to benefit the International Advertising Association, a San Francisco-based nonprofit organization. The gala is open to the public, and includes live entertainment, hors d'oeuvres, wine tasting and the first opportunity to browse through and buy original poster art.

Vintage posters, originally used as a form of advertising, have gained well-deserved respect in recent years. From the coveted Moulin Rouge pieces by Toulouse Lautrec to classic Hollywood movie posters, Art Noueau to Art Deco, and branded consumer products such as food, wine, and champagne, the show's immense selection of museum-quality pieces captivates audiences with an eye for stunning artwork.

The International Vintage Poster Fair takes place in the Herbst Pavilion, with the Benefit Preview Night on October 18, Friday from 5 to 9pm. The Fair continues on Saturday and Sunday, October 19 and 20. For details, see October 18. To reserve tickets, call (650) 548-6700. To view a display of posters available, visit www.posterfair.com.

FALL ANTIQUES SHOW

Portrait Miniature Of A Dalmatian
English, circa 1900

FESTIVAL PAVILION

The San Francisco Fall Antiques Show is the oldest continuously operating high-end antiques show on the West Coast. Currently celebrating its 21st year, the Show was established in 1981 as the major fund-raising event for Enterprise for High School Students, a nonprofit job referral and career development agency for San Francisco youth.

Featured are about 70 exhibitors from across the United States and Europe, showing an extraordinary range of fine antiques representing all styles and periods. On display are American, English, Continental and Asian furniture, porcelain, silver, rugs, glass, and fine art. Prices range from the low hundreds to the many hundreds of thousands, depending on rarity and value. All goods for sale are examined by experts for authenticity, quality, and accuracy of labeling, in cooperation with the Antique Dealers Association of California.

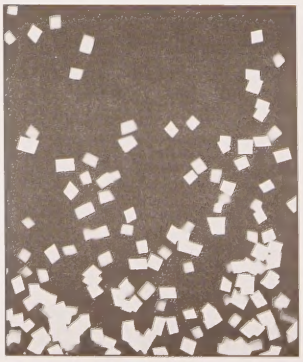
The Preview Party on Wednesday evening is one of the most prestigious social events in San Francisco, and is considered to be the best antiques show preview anywhere. The Collectors Circle reception begins at 4pm; the Patron and Benefactors Reception at 5pm; and the Preview Party at 7pm. Enthusiasts have the opportunity to be first to view the wonderful antiques for sale while enjoying a lavish cocktail-buffet catered by McCall Associates, with music by Walt Tolleson. Tickets are $150 per person, available through the show office or at the door. All proceeds from ticket sales directly benefit Enterprise programs.

This year's Loan Exhibit is "The Great Divide: Folding Screens Through The Centuries." Originally used as a practical, portable means for dividing a large room, or as a shield against drafts, the screens achieved status as works of art in the hands of fine craftsmen: first from China and Japan, and later from Europe and America. A wonderful collection representing many cultures illustrates the beauty and uniqueness of these highly functional objects.

A lecture series complements the themes explored in the Loan Exhibit. Speakers include some of the country's most respected experts on decorative art and antiques.

The 21st Annual San Francisco Fall Antiques Show is presented in the Festival Pavilion. Opening Night is October 23; the Show continues through October 27. For details, see October 23. For more information, visit www.ehss.org.

NEWFANGLE 2002



Photogram
by Audrey Kallander

HERBST INTERNATIONAL EXHIBITION HALL

GenArtSF presents its fourth annual exhibition of the Bay Area's most talented emerging new-media artists. NewFangle provides a rare opportunity for young members of this fast-growing creative population to introduce this innovative work to a larger audience in a group show.

The mission of GenArtSF, a volunteer organization run by young Bay Area professionals, is to strengthen and empower the community of young artists; to cultivate a new generation of art audiences; and to connect the arts community to the community at large. These goals are pursued through a wide range of programs with innovative approaches to education, community outreach and exhibitions.

NewFangle curators Ken Goldberg, Amy Franceschini, Lisa Jevbratt, and Michael Grey selected this year's artists. Included are Adriane Colburn, Kota Ezawa + Karla Milosevich, Ron Goldin, Bob Linder, Sheila A. Malone, Hayes Raffle, Shona Reed, Philip Ross, Anne-Marie Schleiner, and Scott Snibbe.

Opening Night is October 17, Thursday from 7 to 10pm. Admission is $10. New Fangle 2002 is presented in the Herbst International Exhibition Hall from October 18 through November 17, Wednesday through Sunday from noon to 5pm. Admission is free. The Exhibition Hall, a project of the Fort Mason Foundation, is located on Moraga at Montgomery Street in the San Francisco Presidio. For details, see October 17. For more information, call (415) 905-6351 or visit www.genartsf.org.

FUN AT FUND-RAISERS

CONFERENCE CENTER

WaterKeepers Celebration 2002
Notable jazz musicians entertain as guests celebrate the achievements of WaterKeepers and the importance of the Clean Water Act.

WaterKeepers of Northern California includes San Francisco BayKeeper, DeltaKeeper, Petaluma RiverKeeper and Tomales BayKeeper. The organization has mounted a campaign to restore the health of local waterways before it's too late. These projects have played a critical role in protecting the health of the Bay, Delta, and surrounding waterways.

WaterKeepers tackles the most difficult water quality problems in Northern California, taking action to locate pollution spills, illegal dredging, and other harm to bays, rivers, and streams. The organization has stopped hundreds of pollution incidents, ensuring that willful polluters clean up discharges, and pay for the damage they cause.

The party features a tasting of Tsar Nicolai caviar, wine tasting, and the presentation of the environmental achievement award to Congressman George Miller. For event details, see October 17.

The Power Of Play
The Pacific Leadership Institute presents "The Power of Play," a unique fund-raiser incorporating the latest in games philosophy and team-building activities into "a party you'll never forget." Featured are Dr. Erik Rosegard and Ezra Holland, PLI Director, to host the evening and auction off an assortment of one-of-a-kind items. There is also a raffle to win collectible PLI merchandise and other prizes. Network with the community and catch up with old friends over the beverage and dessert bar. Doors open at 7pm; the fun (and fund-raising) continues until 11pm.

Pacific Leadership Institute is a nonprofit agency providing leadership training and educational development programs to public, nonprofit, and private agencies meeting the youth, recreation and human services needs of all residents in urban environments. Proceeds from the event help provide youth scholarships for leadership training and youth development programs. For event information details, see October 18.

Tales Of Tibet
Bay Area Friends of Tibet presents the 17th annual Tibet Day. It's a day of discovery with the third largest Tibetan community in the United States. The event features delicious cuisine, informative lectures, slide shows, panel discussions, and performances of Tibetan music and dance. Unique handcrafts available for purchase include jewelry, clothing, rugs, and ritual objects. Those attending can participate in cultural and political events and meet local Tibetans, young and old, who present many aspects of their beautiful and intriguing culture.

Proceeds from the event will help build a Community Center in the Bay Area as well as to provide ongoing support for educating the local community about Tibet. BAFoT is the West Coast's original Tibet support group, providing education, organizing of grassroots projects and events to benefit Tibetans both locally and internationally. For event information, see October 26.

WORLD VEGETARIAN DAY

Wayne Huey, Red Panda Acrobats, at Vegeterian Day

CONFERENCE CENTER

The Third Annual Vegetarian Day Celebration includes more speakers, vendors, and events for the whole family. There's something for everyone, and non-vegetarians are very welcome. In addition to delicious vegetarian and vegan tastings and demonstrations featuring ethnic foods, there are educational lectures and videos on humane, ecological, spiritual, and health issues.

John Robbins, author of The Food Revolution and Diet For A New America, has been a leading expert on the dietary link between the environment and health. He has been recognized internationally with the Rachel Carson Award, the Albert Schweitzer Humanitarian Award and the Peace Abbey Courage of Conscience Award, and received a standing ovation at the United Nations.

John McDougall, M.D., Director of the McDougall Program at St. Helena Hospital in Napa and the McDougall Wellness Clinic in Santa Rosa, speaks on a timely topic, "Eating Slim."

Bruce Friedrich, Director of Vegan Outreach for People for the Ethical Treatment of Animals (PETA), was successful in getting McDonald's, Burger King, and Wendy's to adopt animal welfare guidelines.

Organic farmer David Blume leads a workshop on "Living Organically." He is president of the International Institute for Ecological Agriculture, director of courses on Permaculture and on alcohol fuel production for automobiles.

All food demonstrations include recipes as well as samples. In addition to "Easy Vegan Cooking" for beginners, demonstrations include "Indian Cuisine" by Shata Sacharoff; "African Diaspora" lecture and cooking by Tiffany Golden; "Cooking Chinese Style" by Errhung Yuan; "Enzymes and Raw Food" lecture and demo by Jordan Rothstein; and "Delicious Raw Demo" by Emily Tombac.

The World Vegetarian Day Celebration is presented in the Conference Center October 13, Sunday from 10am to 4:30pm. For details, see October 13. For more information, call (415) 273-5481 or visit www.sfvs.org.

DANCE

From The Sublime To The Ridiculous

COWELL THEATER, MAGIC THEATRE

Mountains & Rivers Without End
Kathryn Roszak's Anima Mundi Dance Company presents a preview performance of this work in progress, based on an adaptation of Pulitzer Prize-winner Gary Snyder's poem. In this dance/theater piece, East meets West in a journey through real and mythological landscapes. Choreographer Roszak adapted the text and devised the piece with an original score by Christopher Castle and Bob Ernst. Reservations recommended. For details, see October 3.

Pancha Jati
Chitresh Das Dance Company presents the world premiere of a cross-cultural Indian dance and music performance that explores how different traditions can communicate with one another through rhythm. Also featured is an encore presentation of "Sadhana," a solo multimedia piece by Chitresh Das, examining the intersecting paths of art, life, humanity and the divine. For details, see October 4.

Running Time
Printz Dance Project kicks off its fifth year with performances showcasing choreographer Stacey Printz's "unique yet accessible" fusion style blending modern, jazz, and hip-hop. The company performs three new works and two repertory favorites. Guest artists Frit and Frat Fuller's KIN Dance Company of Los Angeles performs two athletic theatrical pieces. For details, see October 11.

Directions In Music/The Dances
Savage Jazz Dance Company celebrates its 10th anniversary with this Bay Area premiere featuring the choreography of Artistic Director Reginald Ray-Savage and live music by Marcus Shelby. The performance is a tribute to innovative and influential jazz legends Miles Davis and John Coltrane. The Thursday evening show is a special gala performance. For details, see October 17.

From The Sublime To The Ridiculous
California Contemporary Dancers presents a show "full of incredible energy, athleticism, and grace. They will make you laugh and cry." The program, which includes three world premieres, features dances full of fun, wit, drama, and romance in an event for the whole family. One of the premieres is Artistic Director Yasmen Sorab Mehta's "American Songs," inspired in part by her recent experience of becoming an American citizen. The piece is set to music she remembers as quintessential American songs she listened to as a teenager growing up in India. For details, see October 25.

OKTOBERFEST BY THE BAY

FESTIVAL PAVILION

Featuring the world's best beer and the finest German cuisine, Oktoberfest By The Bay is a once-a-year chance (without making a trip to Munich) to celebrate in the authentic Bavarian tradition. The festival celebrates 112 years of German Day in San Francisco.

In addition to the world-famous 21-piece Chico Bavarian Band, recently the lead band at Munich's opening Oktoberfest parade, the festival includes singing by the Internationals, dancing by Ensemble International, and extensive exhibits of crafts, art, clothing, and historical items.

The food, a fabulous mix from bratwurst to schweine haxe, pretzels to kirschstreusel, is an abundant smorgasbord of the best traditional German cuisine. Also featured is a wide assortment of outstanding beers and renowned pastries.

Oktoberfest By The Bay is presented in the Festival Pavilion October 4 through 6. For details, see October 4. For more information, call (510) 553-9001 or visit www.oktoberfestbythebay.com.

TED KACZYNSKI

The Magic opens its new season with the world premiere of Ted Kaczynski Killed People With Bombs, a controversial new work from playwright Michelle Carter, author of the award-winning Hillary and Soon-Yi Shop For Ties.

This fascinating investigation of the mysterious Unabomber combines fictional scenes and original songs with actual text from Kaczynski's manifesto. Diagnosed officially as a paranoid schizophrenic, deemed by most a madman and terrorist, and, strangely, even lauded by some as a hero, Kaczynski continues to intrigue.

Why would a brilliant Harvard graduate ditch academia to blow up strangers? When People magazine named him one of the most fascinating people of the year, why was no one surprised? Everyone has an explanation; Kaczynski himself might not know the truth.

The play, directed by Bill Peters, is an acute analysis of his life, his intentions, and the continuing quest to understand.

Magic Theatre is dedicated to supporting emerging and established playwrights, offering writers opportunities to develop and premiere new works, and offering audiences intimate, professional productions that speak to contemporary issues with originality and wit, a sense of urgency and adventure. For more information about the rest of the season's productions, visit www.magictheatre.org. For details about the current production, see October 18.

TRANSFORMATIONS IN GLASS

Evening Colors, 2001
by Tony Jojola

MUSEUM OF CRAFT & FOLK ART

"Fusing Traditions: Transformations in Glass by Native American Artists" investigates glass "as a contested medium." It's traditional as seen from the European-American viewpoint, innovative from the Native American perspective. Working in this ancient form, this first generation of Native American glass artists fuses cultural heritage and individual creativity in a diversity of dazzling new ideas.

The exhibition showcases reinvigorated and re-imagined cultural art forms: beadwork, pottery, masks, spindle whorls, dance wands, and hats. In addition, to honor him, the neon artwork of David Svenson is included in the exhibition at the request of his students. Though not a Native American, he has been an influential teacher at the Pilchuck Glass School for many of the featured artists.

Choctaw Marcus Amerman's glass bead portraits of Marilyn Monroe and Michael Jackson transform our notion of "traditional" bead art. Tony Jojola creates light-filled blown glass vessels in familiar pottery shapes. Preston Singletary and Susan Point (Coast Salish) use the strong Northwest Coast imagery of their culture to create revolutionary forms in sandblasted and carved glass. C. S. Tarpley (Choctaw) fuses his European and Native heritage in unique electroplated glass vessels and drums.

The exhibition and companion catalogue interpret the cross-cultural development of these studio artists, who draw from their individual cultural roots to create a new American art in glass. The catalogue features a foreword by William Morris, the distinguished glass artist. Three essays trace the history of studio glass art in the United States and the context of the emergence of these Native American artists.

"Fusing Traditions," organized by MOCFA curator Carolyn Kastner and guest curator Roslyn Tunis, will travel for two years. The Heard Museum in Phoenix, the Craft and Folk Art Museum in Los Angeles, the Anchorage Museum of Art and History, the Santa Cruz Museum of Art and History and the Alaska State Museum in Juneau will host the exhibition in 2003 and 2004.

"Fusing Traditions: Transformations in Glass by Native American Artists" opened September 12 and continues through November 24. Several special programs are presented in conjunction with the exhibition. See Galleries listing for details.

FORT MASON CENTER

LOOKING FOR AN EVENT SPACE?

Fort Mason Center has a wide variety of attractive and affordable venues available for workshops, conferences, seminars, performances, and special events.

Our facilities—the Conference Center, Firehouse, Cowell Theater, Herbst and Festival Pavilions, and the meeting and activity rooms—are able to accommodate groups from 5 to 5,000.

Whether you are planning a large conference or trade show, a meeting or a gala, Fort Mason Center's spectacular setting and reasonable rental rates make it an outstanding location for all events and activities.

Our experienced staff accommodates your every need with an eye for detail and an attitude of excellence in a personal and professional manner.

The recently renovated Conference Center and Firehouse feature state of the art lighting, MechoShades, wall to wall carpeting, completely remodeled restrooms and updated heating systems. Both spaces command incredible views of San Francisco Bay, and have access to an outdoor patio area. With breakout rooms and capacities from 20 to 300, the Conference Center and Firehouse are ideal for your next event.

The Herbst and Festival Pavilions are major exhibit and special-event column-free facilities for up to 5,000 people. The Pavilions, 30,000 and 50,000 square feet respectively, also are available for trade shows, corporate receptions, and large fund-raising events.

The Cowell Theater, with seating for 437, is fully equipped with sound and lighting systems, dressing rooms, and a projection-/control booth. Situated at the north end of the Herbst Pavilion, with spectacular views of San Francisco Bay and the Golden Gate Bridge from the lobby area, the theater is suitable for performances, film showings, press conferences, lectures, meetings and seminars.

The ten Meeting and Activity Rooms and the Gatehouse are located throughout the campus and can accommodate from 5 to 100 participants at very reasonable rates. These spaces are ideal for meetings, classes, rehearsals, retreats and seminars, or as breakout rooms for activities in other Fort Mason Center facilities.

There is free parking on site and along the beautiful Marina Green, with easy accessibility from all directions. MUNI comes right to our front door.

Located between the Golden Gate Bridge and Fisherman's Wharf on San Francisco's northern waterfront, Fort Mason Center is a unique blend of entertainment and education, open day and night, year-round. A National Historic Landmark and part of the Golden Gate National Recreation Area, it's the setting for more than 15,000 events each year.

The Herbst International Exhibition Hall, located in the Presidio of San Francisco, has shown some of the city's premier exhibits, including the Smithsonian Institution's "Ocean Planet" and "European Instruments of Torture" from the Criminal Medieval Museum of San Gimignano, Italy. Standing at the top of the Presidio's historic Main Post, the Exhibition Hall has approximately 8,000 square feet of space and features climate control, secure storage, a ticket office, gift shop, and food service area. The Herbst International Exhibition Hall, a project of the Fort Mason Foundation, attracts culturally diverse exhibits and events that reflect the Foundation's commitment to the community.

Visit our web site, www.fortmason.org, to look at floorplans of the rental spaces. Call (415) 441-3400 for information, Monday through Saturday, from 9am to 5pm, or e-mail sales@fortmason.org.
